

Sweet Violet!
Thou tender spray
Of color bright
Soft blooming
In the Springtime.
Not the flame of Poppy red,
Or the mad Rose,
Thy storied fragrance
And deeper hues,
Like wisdom old—
Be thou still
The modesty
Of old melody—
The essence of song.

THE COOL COOLIDGES

Speechless Cal and Mrs. Coolidge recently deigned to set foot in the precincts of the great State of Texas whereat a lot of whoopee was got together to do honor to the ex-president of the United States. His special train was met by distinguished Texans flinging roses, verbal and otherwise. He was bowed to and honored and made welcome by the overhearted westerners who never liked him any way. Cal failed to return the compliment. He and Mrs. Coolidge withdrew fastidiously and exhibited all the warmth of a Frigidaire ice box without a cold control. The only remark they made in Dallas was that they never talked to reporters. One reporter vaguely wondered if they ever talked to each other. They put out their right hands behind their backs and ignored the outstretched palms of Texas people. Texans did not know how to take this. Nobody ever refused to shake hands with Texas. The worse came to the worst in San Antonio, however, when Governor Dan Moody had taken a day off from his busy program to show a very ex-president and his wife around the shrine of Texas. When the party arrived at the sacred Alamo, over which the heart of Texas has bled for a century, Mr. Coolidge looked around disinterestedly and said, 'But what is it for?' No definite account of what followed this ignorant and inapt remark can be obtained. It is our opinion that it is well Mr. Coolidge's person was protected by body guards and the sacred seal of America. It is a new experience to feel superior to an ex-president, but we know we never stood at Lexington and said, 'Who was Paul Revere?' And to think that Texas once fell low enough to vote the Republican ticket.—Southern Pharmaceutical Journal.

Someone has dug up the records of the Lancaster, Ohio school board back in 1828. In these records there is an account of a proposed debate as to whether railroads were practical or not. Permission was asked to hold the debate in the school house and the minutes of the school board ran thus: 'You are welcome to use the school room to debate all proper questions in, but such things as railroads and telegraphs are impossibilities and rank infidelity. There is nothing in the word of God about them. If God had designed that His intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of 15 miles an hour by steam, He would have foretold of it through His holy prophets. It is a device of Satan to lead immortal souls down to hell.'

Henry Ford who recently announced that he intended to give 100 million to the cause of education and did not seek any advice on where he should bestow it has given the first installment of this great sum to a small institution in the Georgia mountains. If Mr. Ford uses a good judgment in placing the balance of the 100 million there can certainly be no criticism of the bestowal of his gifts. It will also be clear that he doesn't need any advice when it comes to selecting schools to endow. One million to such a school will accomplish more real good in the world than a hundred million to the great schools to which men of money bestow their gifts so lavishly.

OIL FIELD

Black beaks guzzling, row on row,
Sucking the belch of the undertow.
Black tongues, sharp as a devil's prong,
Click as they gorge and spew the strong
Thick, black blood, ages asleep,
In the sand-skinned belly buried deep.
In a sodden grave, near the sand-skinned hill,
A starved man lies all lank and still.
Had he but known, lean years ago
When the stunted corn shrank, row on row,
And he sweat and hoed the sullen sod
And cursed the land and cursed his God,
Why the strange black muck, now matting his hair
Had seeped from the soil in the same place where
The black beaks guzzle, row on row
Sucking the belch of the undertow.

YOEMEN LOSE GAME TO OENAVILLE HERE

TEN TO ONE DEFEAT GIVEN AS CAMERON BOYS PLAY LOOSE BALL

By GEORGE MOORE

Before a fair crowd, the Yoemen showed that they play well at times, but not often enough. This was the reason Oenaville high school defeated Yoe high Wednesday afternoon by a score of 10 to 1. Four runs in the first inning proved enough to win the game, but in the late innings Oenaville kept adding to their score. Keith pitched fair ball and Worcester, who relieved him, pitched good ball at times.

Captain 'Boots' Smith made two beautiful catches in left field while 'Texas' Miller made a beautiful throw home to put out a runner. W. Morris, Oenaville left fielder, turned in some good work in field and also at the bat.

The box score is as follows:

DR. J. E. MAY, PIONEER PHYSICIAN BURIED HERE

PIONEER PHYSICIAN DIES IN CAMERON ON WEDNESDAY APRIL 9, 1930

Dr. J. E. May, 72, pioneer physician died in Cameron Wednesday, April 9, 1930 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Gaston, following an illness of several weeks.

The death of Dr. May brings to a close a busy life as a practicing physician in Milam county for more than 30 years and his death will be mourned by hundreds who knew him.

Dr. J. E. May was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. May and was a native of Mississippi, having been born in that state on February 24, 1858 and was past 72 years of age. As a lad he came to Texas with his parents and the family settled near Marlin. He was seven years of age when he moved to Texas. His father was a pioneer citizen of Falls county and a large land owner there.

Dr. May was graduated from the Medical College in Memphis, Tennessee. After his graduation he came to Yarrington in Milam county and there began the practice of medicine. He married Miss Mary A. Mowdy, sister of the late Dr. W. L. Mowdy on March 30, 1889. He practiced medicine in Milam county for more than 30 years. During the past six months he had made his home in Cameron with his daughter, Mrs. Chas. E. Gaston. He had been in feeble health for more than a year and for the past two weeks had been confined to his bed where he passed away on Wednesday, April 9, at 1:30 p. m.

Funeral services for the pioneer physician were held Thursday afternoon at the First Baptist church of which he was a member. Services were conducted by Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor, assisted by Rev. C. A. Lehmberg, pastor of the First Methodist church. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery by the side of his late wife. Dr. May was a Mason and the Masonic lodge had charge of the body for the interment service.

He is survived by his two daughters, Mrs. Chas. E. Gaston of Cameron and Mrs. W. C. Ford of Hempstead; one brother, S. R. May of Comanche; and two sisters, Mrs. B. O. Busby of Chilton and Mrs. S. R. Landrum of Lott. Three nephews, the Messrs. Harringtons of Chilton. The Herald extends sympathy to the bereaved family and relatives.

William Scott Lankford of Somerville, Tenn., is a guest of his sister, Mrs. Byron Colburn, and is also visiting in the R. L. Batte home.

LONG SKIRTS HORRIFY PARISIAN STYLE KING; NEARLY COLLAPSES AT SIGHTS IN NEW YORK; WRITES PRESS

New York, Wednesday—Horror at the perversion of the long skirt—his own creation—was expressed in vivid Gallic phrases by Jean Patou, Parisian style expert, when he arrived here on the Ile-de-France.

Mr. Patou found American streets being swept in every direction by trailing flounces. In hotels, offices and steamers the sight was the same. M. Patou put one hand over his eyes and fanned the air with the other, in a gesture which drew great sympathy from those hearing his complaints.

'My long skirt never was intended to be worn by the American working girl,' said M. Patou.

'The American working girl is ideally fitted for the boyish costume. Boyish styles did not look as well on French and South American women and we decided to create a special long skirt style for them, as well as any elegant Americans and Spaniards who might demand it.'

J. M. Ralston Is Host To Friends Here At Brilliant Bridge

Outstanding in beauty and enjoyment was the bridge party given by Judge J. M. Ralston at his palatial residence on Hefley Heights Tuesday evening when he entertained a few married couples with bridge.

Mrs. Ralston is visiting relatives out of town and Judge decided he would repay some of his many social obligations and chose to do the honors by himself. He selected green as his leading color in decorations, and featured spring foliage, potted plants and small potted shrubs. The guests entered the home through an isle of greenery which began at the entrance of the large southern porch, and was seen to advantage throughout the entire reception rooms.

The host greeted his guests upon arrival in a most delightful manner, proving that he was an entertainer of the old school.

After merry games Dr. James Watson was declared winner of high trophy and consolation fell to W. M. Cobb.

The host regaled his guests at the close of games with brick ice cream and green angel food cake, served on beautifully decorated trays, carrying out the chosen color in a most charming style.

Judge John Watson will be in Dallas two weeks beginning the 14th of April presiding in the 95th District Court there for Judge Royall Watkins.

SCHEDULES CHANGE IN PASSENGER TRAINS

H. F. KELLEY, S. P. OFFICIAL, HOST TO BUSINESS MEN HERE TUESDAY

H. F. Kelley, assistant superintendent of this division of the Southern Pacific lines, was in Cameron Tuesday and while here was host to Cameron business men aboard his private car, serving lunch and discussing with the business men proposed changes in the schedules of the passenger trains operating over the Southern Pacific through Cameron.

T. S. Henderson, Jr., invited a number of the business men for the lunch served at 12:30 aboard the car.

The changes proposed are as follows: Instead of running the southbound train in the afternoon the train would run in the morning and also the northbound train would run in the morning and reach Cameron earlier and giving connections with the G. & T. C. at Giddings for Houston and Austin and also connections at Flatonia for Houston and San Antonio and thus affording three connections for Houston in the same day.

The new schedule will enable travelers to leave Cameron at 9:30 and reach Austin at 2 p. m. Leaving Cameron at the same hour one may reach San Antonio at 3:15. The new schedule will enable one to reach Dallas at 6 p. m.

Connections in this way would be a distinct advantage to shippers of poultry to the New Orleans market. Another advantage would be a connection with the Argonaut at Flatonia thus enabling travelers to ride thru the desert at night on their way to California.

Mail sent from Waco in the afternoon now going to Giddings and back to Cameron the next morning would be delivered here 24 hours earlier than with the present schedule.

Passengers going to Waco in the morning could catch the transportation back in the afternoon.

The Commercial Club has been asked to give an expression and the matter will be laid before the club on Monday night. So far all expressions are favorable to the proposed change.

The work of beautifying the church grounds is being continued by the ladies. Water pipes have been laid, and a driveway for the north side of the building is being planned.

The Circle will not have another meeting until after the season of Lent, and Mrs. Ralph Michalka will be the next hostess on May 7.

She plans to stop enroute at Quincy and Chicago, Ill., and hopes to be at home for Easter. Mrs. Legacy made many friends in Cameron during her stay here and they will regret to hear of her going.

Miss Kathryn Robbins will leave Friday for Austin where she will visit at the University of Texas and attend Round-Up festivities.

Mrs. John Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Bassett Watson visited in Dallas last week with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kilgore. They were accompanied home by young Donald Kilgore, Jr., who will remain here with his grandparents for several days.

Cameron Defeats Woodmen Team In Sunday Game

On Sunday afternoon the Woodmen of the World team from Temple met the picked team of Cameron at the Lawless Green field and returned to their homes sadder and wiser for their defeat, sixteen to five, at the hands of the Cameronians.

The local boys made enough scores in their first inning at bat to almost equal the Woodmen and this seemed to take most of the pep out of the opposition and put a great measure of respect in their hearts for the Cameron boys. The runs, hits and errors of the scorer showed Cameron 16 runs, 16 hits and 6 errors; Woodmen 5 runs, 5 hits and 7 errors.

From a glance at the error column it is obvious both teams need practice and team work badly but Mr. Rogers stated that in the future the Cameron team could be depended upon to hold their own with any amateur team in our section.

EASY Beyond All Expectations

IT'S NO TRICK at all to follow the rows with the easy-guiding Case Pivot Axle Cultivator. Does a fine, clean job of cultivating with surprisingly little effort on the part of the operator.

Gangs shift and wheels pivot at the same time in response to a slight touch of your foot on the handy pedals. You dodge quickly around misplaced hills, cultivating to uniform depth and getting all stray weeds.

As you shift the pedals, the entire beam moves from side to side—quickly and smoothly—on roller bearings. Shovels always face forward—every inch of ground is cultivated, whether rows are straight or crooked. Wheels and beams are easily and quickly adjustable for rows of different widths.

You can use 4, 6, or 8 shovels of various types to meet all soil and crop conditions. Easy on the team—strong and durable.

See this time-saving, profit-making cultivator. We'd like to serve you on any farm implement needs because we know we can please you.

WANTED---A Dreamer

"If you can dream and not make dreams your master," wrote Kipling years ago . . . The world of business today is looking for dreamers . . . for men who can sit back and visualize things as they will be twenty years hence. For executives who can scheme . . . plan . . . look to newer horizon.

BUT

Business men who . . . their dream dreamed . . . can put into action their visions. Men who know how to build and create. Men who know that the first and important step is to see their banker.

Court House News

Verdict Reached In Cox-Jamison Suit

The case of J. A. Jamison vs. Walker Cox went to trial in the District Court last Monday and the jury returned a verdict on Special Issues on Thursday afternoon in favor of plaintiff for $79.00 actual and no exemplary damages. The jury found that the defendant did not strike the plaintiff in self-defense against violence used or threatened by the plaintiff and that the plaintiff was forced to sign a certain paper handed him by the defendant by reason of an assault made upon plaintiff and by reason of threats against the plaintiff and fear on the part of plaintiff for his life or great bodily injury. They also found that the assault was made by defendant willfully and purposely and with intent to injure the plaintiff but did not award exemplary or punitive damages. L. S. Cunningham was foreman of the jury.

The plaintiff was represented by Chambers and Gillis and Winborn Pearce of Temple, and the defendant by Henderson, Kidd and Henderson.

In a former trial similar questions were answered except that no actual damages were awarded before.

The defendant has filed motion for new trial and if denied an appeal may be taken.

RID OF BAD TASTE

Georgia Man Tells How He Takes Black-Draught When Bilious.

Valdosta, Ga.—In telling how Theodor's Black-Draught has helped to keep him well, Mr. O. A. Aldrich, of this city, says:

"Black-Draught is a good medicine. I began taking it when just a boy, for biliousness and as a laxative.

"When I get bilious, my mouth has a bad taste and I get dizzy, feel light-headed. A few doses of Black-Draught usually make me feel like new. It seems to cleanse my system of impurities, my head gets clearer, and the bad taste is gone from my mouth.

"I am a rather healthy, strong man, taking very little medicine, except for the dizziness I mentioned. It is good to know that there is a good laxative like Black-Draught to take and give quick relief."

Thousands of other men and women find Black-Draught a great help in relieving common ailments due to indigestion, constipation and biliousness.

Theodor's Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality, finely powdered, carefully combined and packaged by automatic machinery.

Chevrolet Motor Co. In Plant Expansion

Detroit, April 7.—The Chevrolet Motor Company today announces an expansion of its production capacity through the opening last week of the rebuilt and enlarged assembly and export plant at Tarrytown, N. Y.

The new Tarrytown plant has a capacity of 900 cars daily and is one of the nine assembly plants maintained by Chevrolet in the United States.

Completion of this plant places Chevrolet in a more advantageous position to meet rapidly expanding sales requirements for its product along the Atlantic seaboard. In addition, the move was made to thoroughly modernize the plant and bring it up to the high standard of equipment and efficiency that characterizes Chevrolet plants in other sections of the country.

The new plant is a one story, brick and steel structure, 1200 by 400 feet, with monitor type roof, providing for the maximum light and ventilation. Adjoining it is a new two story office building, 200 by 60 feet, of concrete and brick construction.

The plant has two domestic assembly lines and an export boxing line. The export division of the Tarrytown plant serves many countries at present inaccessible to overseas Chevrolet plants. In several instances, Chevrolet finds it more expedient to ship direct from Tarrytown to a foreign country than from a Chevrolet plant overseas. In the case of the Tarrytown plant this applies only to countries that receive cars fully assembled. The other Chevrolet export plant at Bloomfield, N. J. ships only knocked down parts for assembly at General Motors plants overseas.

The finished Chevrolet cars, assembled and boxed at Tarrytown are put on barges and floated down to New York city, where they are put aboard ships for various parts of the world.

Stargas Introduced Into The Cameron Trade Territory

One of the latest conveniences to farmers in this section is the introduction of Star Gas into Cameron territory. This product makes it possible for farm homes to have all the gas conveniences of the city, and distinctively modernizes them.

The slogan adopted by the company "Stargas where gas mains stop," characterizes the product exactly.

Stargas is produced by extracting from pure gas all the elements containing extraordinarily high heating value. The elements condense when placed under normal temperature and moderate pressure is removed.

Piping for Stargas is exactly as piping for natural gas. The only difference is that the supply comes from the drums of Stargas placed outside the house. There are two drums, and when the first is consumed the second is placed in use, and a call for the representative brings a full one to be exchanged for the empty drum. The truck is equipped for quick demonstration.

The Community Natural Gas Company office is headquarters for information on the installation of gas in rural or suburban homes out of reach of the main line and with this new convenience, many rural homes around Cameron will soon be made to rival the most completely equipped city residence, company officials declare.

J. B. Brooks of Houston, assistant general freight agent of the Southern Pacific Lines was a visitor in Cameron last week. Mr. Brooks is well known here, having served as freight agent for the San Antonio and Aransas Pass system for a number of years.

INSURANCE

Chas. Frank Green
Cameron, Texas.

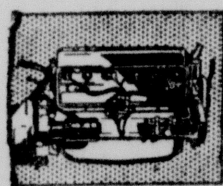

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First: Which car gives the most for my money?

Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

Six-Cylinder Motor

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—for six cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the whole chassis, the body, the passengers, and the driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

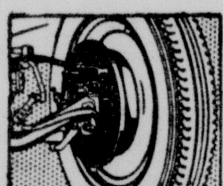

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. Its big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain at any speed.

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Efficient design makes this possible—overhead valves—high compression power from any fuel—very latest high-acceleration carburetor—close-fitting, long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your ideal of truly modern transportation.

Chevrolet economy is also the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and adjustable. This saves replacing valves, and also makes it possible to preserve efficiency.

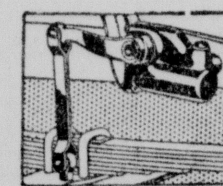

Fully Enclosed Brakes

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining—reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the new Chevrolet Six. This makes it unnecessary to take the axle apart to examine it or clean it.

The Chevrolet Six is full of such evidence that true motor car economy comes from advancement and refinement.

Like the finest cars, the Chevrolet Six provides the comfort and protection of four springs controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, and self-adjusting spring shackles maintain quiet.

News Of Seventh Grade

The following are the biographies of famous people whose birthdays come in April. Three paragraphs: 1, His boyhood days; 2, Why he is remembered; and 3, Something about his character were used in writing these biographies.

Oliver Cromwell

Oliver Cromwell was born into the family of a very poor but very religious farmer in Huntingdonshire. Now to glance at his features. It looks as though his face had been hewn out of solid granite, grim massive and hard. There is power written all over his face, but no vestige. He is a born fighter and leader, the future Protector of England. Cromwell was a very religious man. Once he was ready to leave for America for his religion, when stopped by the king's order.

Cromwell was one of the men in Parliament whom Charles I declared was against, uncouth, unskilled, embarrassed, when he began to speak, but a man by reason of his power. He also raised the Puritan army, or the Ironsides, who conquered the Cavaliers.

Oliver Cromwell, when the need became apparent, could kill with as much firmness as anybody. Yet his mercilessness caused suffering for the poor. He caused coal to be brought in without taxation, so the poor could get it cheaper. He also forced companies to store coal in the city in the summer when it was cheap so the poor could get it cheap.

—Roy Baskin.

Washington Irving

Washington Irving whose native city was New York was the youngest of a family of eleven children. His father was a stern Scotch Presbyterian and his mother a kind English woman. Although in his youth there was in his character, a touch of his later Rip Van Winkle, it seemed that he inherited the best traits of both his parents. Rambling about Sleepy Hollow region was caused by symptoms of the lungs.

He sailed for Europe intending to improve his health, which he did. There he gained the friendship of many. Later he returned home still and idler and spending most of the time in social affairs. The death of his proposed wife caused a great grief over him. But he wrote to keep away the grief and among the writings was 'Knickerbocker's History of New York.' Later he made himself famous by the books and stories of 'Geoffrey Crayson's Sketch Book,' 'Rip Van Winkle,' 'Legend of Sleepy Hollow,' and 'Bracebridge Hall.' He went to Europe and finished more famous books. 'Tales of a Traveler,' 'Life of Columbus,' 'The Alhambra,' and 'Life of Washington,' were among them.

Returning to the United States he was honored as America's pioneer in the field of general literature.

About the time of the War of 1812 his brother's business and health failed and Washington came home from Europe and supported them. Another incident that showed his wonderful character was the time he abandoned the writing of the history of Mexico so that blind Prescott might do it.

—Ernest Sharpe.

Hans Christian Anderson

A long, lanky lad, the son of a cobbler, was often seen walking the streets of the ancient city of Odense, Denmark. By looking at him would you think him idle? Perhaps so, but his mind was really full of wonderful pictures of fairies. There were few books in his home but often at night he read fairy tales.

Hans Christian Anderson is known as one of the best fairy tale writers the world over. Some of his most famous writings are 'Little Claus and Big Claus,' 'The Little Mermaid,' 'The Tinder Box,' 'The Ugly Duckling,' 'The Snow Queen.'

Because of Hans' nervous, high strung nature his mother found it necessary to arrange at the first school he attended that he should never be punished. One day, having forgotten the request, the teacher gave him a slight tap with the rod and he immediately took up his slate and books and marched off home only to be sent to another school.

—May Griffith.

Booker T. Washington

Booker Taliaferro Washington was an American negro educator. He was born on a plantation in Franklin county, Virginia. For a while, a slave was he, but slavery was abolished by the war between the North and the South and he and his mother were set free. While employed in salt blocks and coal mines in West Virginia, he managed to get the rudiments of an education at night school. He worked his way through the Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute between 1872 and 1875.

After he had gone to the Wayland Seminary in Washington, D. C., he became an instructor at Hampton. He made such a good appearance here that he was chosen to organize at Tuskegee, Alabama, a normal school for negroes, similar to that at Hampton. The state made up two thousand dollars each year to pay the teachers. It is now the Tuskegee Normal. The growth was due largely to the earnestness and practical good sense of Booker T. Washington. He was a good public speaker and addressed large audiences all over the United States. He was also a good writer and wrote many books.

After he had learned all of this knowledge, he was so unselfish that he was willing to spend his money and knowledge and devote all of his time in teaching the people of his race.

—Vernon Mayfield.

Cromwell

Oliver Cromwell was born in Huntingdon, England into a world that was ever changing and into a country especially noted for its many Civil Wars and uprisings over church questions. He was of the middle class and pretty well-to-do. Reports are meager about his childhood, but he was finely educated. He, after being educated in the Huntingdon Grammar Schools, studied law at Cambridge, then practiced in London. After marrying, he was converted to Puritanism strict in itself and in one of its strictest forms.

Cromwell was mostly remembered for his great military skill. In serving in the army against Charles I he was rapidly promoted. After many campaigns he received command of the Parliamentary Armies at a critical moment, the Welsh, Scotch, Irish and Dutch were closing in on England on all sides. He met this by giving the Scotch a bitter defeat at Preston Moor.

After fixing things in foreign lands he defeated the army of Charles II, a weak general himself, and on the vote of a Puritan Parliament became Lord Protector of Great Britain. Under his reign England defeated all enemies in France, Spain and the Barbary States. He made good his boast that an Englishman should be as fully respected as a Roman had been.

Oliver Cromwell was really not a bloodthirsty man but he would sacrifice everything for a cause. The thing he was fighting for was an upright Parliament but when he became commander of the army he abolished it because he thought it was threatening the rights of the people. At the first of the struggle he executed Charles I because then he knew that Charles could not inspire his men. In one of his campaigns in Ireland, he took a city and executed every man, woman and child to cow the Irish. He was a great leader of the Protestants and before he died he made Central Europe a safe place for Protestantism.

—Giles Avriett.

John Burroughs

Although born in the East where so many large cities are, John Burroughs became a noted naturalist and essayist. He received an academic education and then taught school for eight years. From 1874 until his death he lived on a farm devoting his time to literature and fruit culture.

We remember him for his great naturalism on animals. Some of his greatest works are 'Notes on Walt Whitman as a Poet and Person,' 'Locusts and Wild Honey,' 'Fresh Fields' and 'Far and Near.' He is one of America's favorite writers on outdoor life, a literary naturalist whose description of birds, bees and flowers are among the best and most charming in all literature.

The essay was his favorite form of literature and he found special enjoyment in reading Emerson, Walt Whitman and Matthew Arnold. The first, he said, awakened his religious feelings; the second quickened his interest in human nature; the third taught him to write and think clearly.

—Charlie Smith.

Hans Christian Anderson

Anderson was born in Odense, Denmark. He had very little education or home training. He loved the theater and tried to become an actor. His friends helped him with his education. Later he wrote plays which no one cared for. He won no attention until he began to write travel stories during his travels through Germany and Italy.

He is remembered for his famous fairy tales of which 'The Ugly Duckling' is one of the most famous. He also wrote some other famous stories some of which are 'Improvisatore,' 'O. T.,' 'Only a Fiddler' and 'Life's Romance.'

Anderson was one of the best loved men in the world. He was a personal friend of the Queen and King of Denmark. Very many people grieved over his death.

CHURCH OF COLONIAL DAYS STRESSED IN MEETING OF D. A. R. CHAPTER HERE

The church during colonial times was stressed in the meeting of the Sarah McCalla Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. D. Eplen hostess at her home. The meeting was opened with the reading of the ritual and the offering of a prayer, following which Mrs. R. H. McIntosh, regent, presided over a business session. Roll call was answered with the names of colonial ministers and brief histories of their lives.

The program proper was devoted to a paper read by Mrs. Graham Gillis on 'The Part the Church Played in the Colonization of America.' Mrs. B. J. Baskin and Mrs. R. H. McIntosh gave a report on the unveiling of the La Salle monument at Navasota recently. The monument was erected by the State D. A. R. organization with the assistance of the citizens of Navasota.

The hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Bush Stafford, served white and lavender brick cream and cake. Plate favor were purple pansies. There were 12 members present at the meeting, three of whom were out of town. Mrs. John Owens of Brownwood and Mrs. R. A. Tag were guests.

MRS. ANNA MIKASKA

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Mikaska, 68 years, were held at the Ocker church Friday April 4, at ten o'clock in the morning, with Rev. Hagar officiating. Interment was in the Ocker cemetery with Green Brothers in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Mikaska died at her home near Burlington at four o'clock in the afternoon, Thursday, April 3.

the Catastrophe that befell Mrs. Greer's Cake

One of Mrs. Greer's masterpieces—an angel food cake—was basking in the oven's glow, taking on that coat of tan so fashionable these days—especially necessary to cakes of quality.

"Some think it's all in the beating," said Mrs. Greer inwardly as she cautiously lowered the door and peeped in, "but I claim that baking has just as much to do with . . ."

Just then . . . the telephone in the front hall rang.

"What can you expect?" she asked irritably when her husband came home a few minutes later. Between them they viewed the ruins of what had once been a promising cake. Tears welled up in her eyes.

"I can't bake a cake and answer the 'phone at the same time," she wailed.

"No, you can't," soothed Henry Greer as he put his arm around her. "What you really need, I guess, is an 'extension' telephone near the kitchen."

Telephones where you need them save time, steps, housewifely patience—even scorched cakes. Had Henry Greer but known it, telephones are being installed in kitchens, these days.

Few know that the extra cost of one or two "extensions" is somewhat less than that of the single telephone they now have.

By a wisely placed "extension" or two, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of the telephones in your home.

Just then . . . the telephone rang!

"TRY CARDUI AGAIN"

Mother's Advice to Daughter
Was Followed, and She
Soon Got Better.

North Little Rock, Ark.—"Shortly after my marriage, my health wasn't very good," writes Mrs. W. E. Burgin, 315 West Second Street, this city. "I had severe cramping spells, and at times I would have to go to bed. This would be very weakening. I took about five bottles of Cardui at this time and my strength came back. I did not have any more trouble for some time."

Several years later, Mrs. Burgin found herself debilitated by heavy home responsibilities, and she explains: "I seemed very slow in getting my strength back. I was too weak to do anything but just lie around. I would get very nervous over my condition."

"My mother told me I ought to try Cardui again. I did, and soon was getting better. When I had taken about four bottles of Cardui, I was able to do my work again, and haven't had to take it any more."

If you are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, take Cardui, a medicine used by women for over fifty years. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of others who have praised Cardui for the benefits they have felt after taking it. Get a bottle, today.

MAYSFIELD

Members of the Ladies' Aid whose birthdays came in the months of January, February and March entertained the society with a Tacky Party.

On Wednesday, April 2, the ladies of the community searched in the attic for styles of by-gone years and donning them, made their way to the home of Mrs. Roy Newton where they were escorted to the back door by the hostesses and cordially invited to walk in. Various things obstructed their path as they passed through the house to the living room where they were seated. Some of them were so 'stylishly' dressed that it was difficult for their next door neighbors to recognize them and much laughter was heard as they surveyed each other.

At this time their attention was attracted by the decorations in the room. Instead of flowers, various vegetables were used as bouquets, paper bags stuffed with pop corn and peanuts having comical faces and figures drawn on them, were hanging temptingly around, but as this was April Fool time the guests were careful to refuse when invited to help themselves. Other pictures, such as 'April Fool Knock Out' and 'Goofie' hung from the walls. These pictures and drawings were real pieces of art and were admired very much by the guests. The Society is very much indebted to Miss Ruth Barmore and the little fourteen year old daughter of her Sunday school teacher, Helen Manning of Harlingen, Texas, where Miss Barmore is doing stenographic work, for the use of their talent on this occasion.

A full program was given and the guests were kept busy with one stunt rapidly following another. Sticks of candy suspended by strings and 'doctored' with salt and soda were bitten, a Pose Stunt, Tangled Songs, Hurley Burley, Tongue Twisters and then each guest was given a piece of chewing gum which she chewed and molded into an animal, the name of which had been given her. Mrs. Wm. Freeman won the prize, with a squirrel.

The menu in the shape of a little book with a 'funny saying' inside was handed out with the suggestion that the ladies take their preference. The menu was as follows: cocktail, wild goose, pickles, string beans and salad. When invited to the dining room they were served with a rooster's feather in a glass, and in the plate was the picture of a wild goose, peanuts painted green for pickles, beans strung on a string and a picture of a tempting salad.

While 'eating' each read her funny saying and then the judges decided who was the tackiest. It was a tie between Mrs. Gail Newton and Mrs. John Thweatt. As Mrs. Thweatt was a guest the prize was won by her. A prize given for the silliest thing ever done was won by Mrs. Allen.

While the guests were enjoying refreshments of delicious cake and ice cream in the living room they were entertained with a splendid radio program from station SPASM and were asked to guess who was broadcasting 'Maggie and Jiggs at the Golden Gate' and 'Questions the Census Taker is asking us.' To the surprise of all LeRoy Massengale stepped from behind a curtain.

The hostesses giving this party were Mesdames J. Wise, Roy Newton, R. B. Mayes, Gail Newton, Hub Massengale, Nettie Barmore and Miss Mary Kelso. Among the members and guests who enjoyed the entertainment were Mesdames Allen, John Thweatt, Gilford Thweatt, Eva Todd, J. H. Ireland, Jennie Yates, Albert Triggs, Jr., Gum Ditto, H. L. Yager, Wm. Freeman, Floyd, H. L. Atkinson, Elbert Hollinsworth and E. J. Newton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Freeman and children, Billy and Betty, attended the matinee in Cameron Monday afternoon.

A speeding car with drinking passengers, passed through Maysfield Saturday evening killing a calf belonging to Roy Newton, it is reported.

Texas And Texans

Penitentiary Problem Compromise

It should be evident to an unbiased mind that the Texas legislature will never agree to remove the main penitentiary to a 'point near Austin.' The leading argument for a near-Austin location is that it would place it close enough for frequent visitations and inspections by State officials and where the products of the system could easily and cheaply be distributed to other State institutions.

Huntsville is only about 130 miles by direct line from Austin, 65 from Houston and 160 from Dallas. Governor Hoody favors relieving congested prison conditions by using a large prison force in road building. Why not compromise now by spending as much of the present appropriation as possible for building a unit for a modern industrial plant at Huntsville, and with the co-operation of the Highway Commission, using prison labor to construct first-class highways from Huntsville to Austin and Dallas? The road to Houston is already good.

To get to Austin it would only be necessary to fill in gaps from Singleton to Bryan and from Lexington to Elgin and build the roads already designated. Dallas can be reached on an almost straight line by the designated Federal and State highway, through Madisonville, Fairfield, Corsicana and Ennis, most of which is yet unbuilt.

Huntsville already about an hour and a half from Houston, can thus be placed in about three and a half hours of Austin and four and a half hours of Dallas over good roads by bus and truck, many intermediate towns and a large rural areas would be benefitted, penitentiary congestion would be at least temporarily helped, Huntsville would be happy, conflicting interests could find no cause for complaint and a fine start would be made in converting the old prison into a modern plant at the least expense.

Nueces County Diversification

Although Nueces county, with 123,703 bales leads the State and probably the world, in cotton production, its newspapers are not especially proud of the record and are preaching diversification, evidence of which is now seen on every hand.

Robstown alone has shipped over 400 cars of vegetables this season, shipment reaching as high as 75 cars a week. From Odem a solid trainload of radishes, 17 carloads and said to be the largest shipment of radishes ever made, recently went North, having been concentrated at Bishop, Odem and Robstown.

In adjoining San Patricio county, Sinton, Taft and Gregory are making larger vegetable shipments than ever before. The crop of radishes, which was grown in about 30 days, has netted growers more than $20 an acre, some crops selling for $40 an acre gathered in the fields.

Co-operation is working wonders in vegetable growing and marketing not only in that part of Texas, but throughout the State.

Valley Vegetables

Practically all evidence of the January frost in the Lower Rio Grande Valley has disappeared. Most of the publicity of that section centers around citrus fruits, the thousands of acres of which certainly are a delight to the eye, but just now trainload vegetable shipments, running during the season into many thousand carloads are making business lively and prosperity evident in the valley.

Approximately 12,500 prospective homeseekers, according to railroad reports, have visited South Texas in Pullman cars the first three months of the year, and probably as many more have gone there in busses and private cars. This shows that Texas is attracting greater attention than ever before. All of the State is sharing in this influx of people from other States.

Maine Potato Growers

A trainload of Maine potato growers, accompanied by the Governor and bringing with them fine samples of their native 'spuds,' came to Texas the first week in April primarily to advertise Maine products, but they saw Texas products and Texas weather in such striking contrast with those of Maine that Texas will get a number of them as permanent citizens. Wisconsin dairymen recently brought a car of Wisconsin dairy products to Texas to show what that State is doing in the dairy business, the result being that a number of them have arranged to do their dairying in Texas in the future. Northern people like Texas weather and Texas hospitality.

Highway Co-Operation

It is hard for a single town or community to put over a highway program unaided by other places. Highways are not planned now for a single precinct or county, but to lead from one definite point to another in a way to serve the most people. Where a road is to be designated and built, people all along the line must hold meetings, agree upon plans and routes, and work together unitedly to accomplish their purpose. Where this is being done in Texas, results are being obtained. This is a cooperative age. Whatever is to be done can be done best by united effort. All Texans need to cooperate in every way possible in building up all Texas.

Hotels Are Necessities

A Texas town without ample and comfortable hotel facilities is out of luck. Tourists and business men avoid such towns. Occasionally they get caught in them at night unable to get accommodations and forced to move on to some other place.

Can you imagine the feeling of auto travelers overtaken at night in such a place, when they have to leave in the rain over unfamiliar and muddy roads for another town some 40 miles away? This was the luck of at least a dozen autoists in an otherwise fine Texas town not more than two weeks ago. That town—and there are others—should get actively to work to secure a modern hotel large enough for its present and prospective trade.

Henderson Bank Organized

When the Farmers and Merchants National Bank at Henderson closed its doors the latter part of February, business there received a temporary shock, but it didn't last long. Within a month a new bank organization was formed with Judge Charles L. Brachfield as its head and the new Citizens National Bank announces it has taken over all the assets and will pay all the liabilities of the closed bank. Not a depositor in the old bank has withdrawn his account and many new depositors are being made. That is the spirit that makes Henderson the splendid little city that it is.

Freeze Gets Tomatoes

The recent freeze around Jacksonville, Nacogdoches and other East Texas points destroyed from 25 to 75 per cent of the tomatoes that had been set out. Some will not be replanted, but all available plants will be put out, and the hopeful tomato growers of East Texas say they will get larger prices because of the decreased acreage. A little cold snap doesn't discourage a modern East Texas farmer for any great time.

Uvalde Airport

Private interests have acquired 500 acres for an airport site at Uvalde, said to be admirably adapted to the purpose. A flying school will be established in connection with the airplane landing field. Del Rio and Eagle Pass, nearby, will also have flying schools and regular air services will be maintained between the three enterprising West Texas cities.

Patronize Home Folks

I know a nice little Texas city that has recently lost two families because local groceries, that depend on local patronage for their support, are selling bread baked in nearby cities rather than but it at the same price from either of the two home bakeries that make as good bread as the city bakeries. Bad, isn't it, that some merchants expect everybody except themselves to help build up a town, while they feel privileged to tear it down?

Health Features Sell Electric Refrigerators

The electric refrigerator is probably more capable of increasing the health and happiness of the American family, than any other recent invention for the household.

A few years ago little thought was given to refrigeration by homemakers. Almost any nook or corner, cooler, in even the slightest degree, than the outside temperature was deemed a satisfactory storage place for even the most perishable of foods.

This belief has been disproved by the scientists and bacteriologists in the employ of the manufacturers of electric refrigerators.

According to Mr. Flinn of the Texas Power and Light Company, agents for the General Electric Refrigerator, one of their first discoveries was that harmful bacteria developed with great rapidity in foods stored in a temperature above 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

'Destructive bacteria is present in foods at all times,' he continued, 'and it requires only warmth and moisture to develop it. The growth of this bacteria causes mold, which if consumed, may result in serious ailments.'

It is necessary, therefore, that food be stored in a temperature ranging between 40 and 50 degrees Fahrenheit until used.

'The majority of the people now realize these facts, which in addition to the convenience and utility of electric refrigeration accounts for its tremendous acceptance in a few years time.'

'A good electric refrigerator will pay for itself in a short time by the food saving and convenience it makes possible. In the average home, approximately 10 to 15 per cent of the foods purchased are lost by spoilage.'

YOUR porch will give a smiling greeting to your friends and it will prove a source of immense pleasure to you and your family if it is "fixed up" a bit.

The porch is really an outdoor sun parlor and its appearance should be considered as a matter of importance.

Due to the abuse to which it is exposed—rain, snow, sleet, ice and the hot rays of the sun—scuffing shoes and oft-moved chairs, the porch floor needs the best kind of protection that can be secured. For this protection we offer LOWE BROTHERS PORCH AND DECK PAINT.

It is very easy to put on—you will be pleased and surprised at the results you can obtain.

THE COOL COOLIDGES

Speechless Cal and Mrs. Coolidge recently deigned to set foot in the precincts of the great State of Texas whereat a lot of whoopee was got together to do honor to the ex-president of the United States. His special train was met by distinguished Texans flinging roses, verbal and otherwise. He was bowed to and honored and made welcome by the overhearted westerners who never liked him any way. Cal failed to return the compliment. He and Mrs. Coolidge withdrew fastidiously and exhibited all the warmth of a Frigidaire ice box without a cold control. The only remark they made in Dallas was that they never talked to reporters. One reporter vaguely wondered if they ever talked to each other. They put out their right hands behind their backs and ignored the outstretched palms of Texas people. Texans did not know how to take this. Nobody ever refused to shake hands with Texas. The worse came to the worst in San Antonio, however, when Governor Dan Moody had taken a day off from his busy program to show a very ex-president and his wife around the shrine of Texas. When the party arrived at the sacred Alamo, over which the heart of Texas has bled for a century, Mr. Coolidge looked around disinterestedly and said, "But what is it for?" No definite account of what followed this ignorant and inapt remark can be obtained. It is our opinion that it is well Mr. Coolidge's person was protected by body guards and the sacred seal of America. It is a new experience to feel superior to an ex-president, but we know we never stood at Lexington and said, "Who was Paul Revere?" And to think that Texas once fell low enough to vote the Republican ticket.—Southern Pharmaceutical Journal.

Someone has dug up the records of the Lancaster, Ohio school board back in 1828. In these records there is an account of a proposed debate as to whether railroads were practical or not. Permission was asked to hold the debate in the school house and the minutes of the school board ran thus: "You are welcome to use the school room to debate all proper questions in, but such things as railroads and telegraphs are impossibilities and rank infidelity. There is nothing in the word of God about them. If God had designed that His intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of 15 miles an hour by steam, He would have foretold of it through His holy prophets. It is a device of Satan to lead immortal souls down to hell."

Henry Ford who recently announced that he intended to give 100 million to the cause of education and did not seek any advice on where he should bestow it has given the first installment of this great sum to a small institution in the Georgia mountains. If Mr. Ford uses a good judgment in placing the balance of the 100 million there can certainly be no criticism of the bestowal of his gifts. It will also be clear that he doesn't need any advice when it comes to selecting schools to endow. One million to such a school will accomplish more real good in the world than a hundred million to the great schools to which men of money bestow their gifts so lavishly.

Black beaks guzzling, row on row.
Sucking the belch of the undertow.
Black tongues, sharp as a devil's prong,
Click as they gorge and spew the strong
Thick, black blood, ages asleep.
In the sand-skinned belly buried deep.
In a sodden grave, near the sand-skinned hill,
A starved man lies all black and still.
Had he but known, lean years ago
When the stunted corn shrank, row on row,
And he sweat and heed the sullen sod
And cursed the land and cursed his God,
Why the strange black muck, now matting his hair
Had seeped from the soil in the same place where
The black beaks guzzle, row on row.
Sucking the belch of the undertow.

YOEMEN LOSE GAME TO OENAVILLE HERE

TEN TO ONE DEFEAT GIVEN AS CAMERON BOYS PLAY LOOSE BALL

By GEORGE MOORE

Before a fair crowd, the Yoemen showed that they play well at times, but not often enough. This was the reason Oenaville high school defeated Yoe high Wednesday afternoon by a score of 10 to 1. Four runs in the first inning proved enough to win the game, but in the late innings Oenaville kept adding to their score. Keith pitched fair ball and Worcester, who relieved him, pitched good ball at times.

Captain 'Boots' Smith made two beautiful catches in left field while 'Texas' Miller made a beautiful throw home to put out a runner. W. Morris, Oenaville left fielder, turned in some good work in field and also at the bat.

The box score is as follows:

DR. J. E. MAY, PIONEER PHYSICIAN BURIED HERE

PIONEER PHYSICIAN DIES IN CAMERON ON WEDNESDAY APRIL 9, 1930

Dr. J. E. May, 72, pioneer physician died in Cameron Wednesday, April 9, 1930 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Gaston, following an illness of several weeks.

The death of Dr. May brings to a close a busy life as a practicing physician in Milam county for more than 30 years and his death will be mourned by hundreds who knew him. Dr. J. E. May was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. May and was a native of Mississippi, having been born in that state on February 24, 1858 and was past 72 years of age. As a lad he came to Texas with his parents and the family settled near Marlin. He was seven years of age when he moved to Texas. His father was a pioneer citizen of Falls county and a large land owner there.

Dr. May was graduated from the Medical College in Memphis, Tennessee. After his graduation he came to Yarellton in Milam county and there began the practice of medicine. He married Miss Mary A. Mowdy, sister of the late Dr. W. L. Mowdy on March 30, 1889. He practiced medicine in Milam county for more than 30 years. During the past six months he had made his home in Cameron with his daughter, Mrs. Chas. E. Gaston. He had been in feeble health for more than a year and for the past two weeks had been confined to his bed where he passed away on Wednesday, April 9, at 1:30 p. m.

Funeral services for the pioneer physician were held Thursday afternoon at the First Baptist church of which he was a member. Services were conducted by Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, pastor, assisted by Rev. C. A. Lehmburg, pastor of the First Methodist church. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery by the side of his late wife. Dr. May was a Mason and the Masonic lodge had charge of the body for the interment service.

He is survived by his two daughters, Mrs. Chas. E. Gaston of Cameron and Mrs. W. C. Ford of Hempstead; one brother, S. R. May of Comanche; and two sisters, Mrs. B. O. Busby of Chilton and Mrs. S. B. Landrum of Lott. Three nephews, the Messrs. Harringtons of Chilton. The Herald extends sympathy to the bereaved family and relatives.

William Scott Lankford of Somerville, Tenn., is a guest of his sister, Mrs. Byron Colburn, and is also visiting in the R. L. Batte home.

LONG SKIRTS HORRIFY PARISIAN STYLE KING; NEARLY COLLAPSES AT SIGHTS IN NEW YORK; WRITES PRESS

New York, Wednesday—Horror at the perversion of the long skirt—his own creation—was expressed in vivid Gallic phrases by Jean Patou, Parisian style expert, when he arrived here on the Ile-de-France.

Mr. Patou found American streets being swept in every direction by trailing flounces. In hotels, offices and steamers the sight was the same. Mr. Patou put one hand over his eyes and fanned the air with the other, in a gesture which drew great sympathy from those hearing his plaints.

"My long skirt never was intended to be worn by the American working girl," said Mr. Patou.

"The American working girl is ideally fitted for the boyish costume. Boyish styles did not look as well on French and South American women and we decided to create a special long skirt style for them, as well as any elegant Americans and Spaniards who might demand it."

H. F. KELLEY, S. P. OFFICIAL, HOST TO BUSINESS MEN HERE TUESDAY

H. F. Kelley, assistant superintendent of this division of the Southern Pacific lines, was in Cameron Tuesday and while here was host to Cameron business men aboard his private car, serving lunch and discussing with the business men proposed changes in the schedules of the passenger trains operating over the Southern Pacific through Cameron.

T. S. Henderson, Jr., invited a number of the business men for the lunch served at 12:30 aboard the car.

The changes proposed are as follows: Instead of running the south-bound train in the afternoon the train would run in the morning and also the northbound train would run in the morning and reach Cameron earlier and giving connections with the G. & T. C. at Giddings for Houston and Austin and also connections at Flatonia for Houston and San Antonio and thus affording three connections for Houston in the same day.

The new schedule will enable travelers to leave Cameron at 9:30 and reach Austin at 2 p. m. Leaving Cameron at the same hour one may reach San Antonio at 3:15. The new schedule will enable one to reach Dallas at 6 p. m.

Connections in this way would be a distinct advantage to shippers of poultry to the New Orleans market. Another advantage would be a connection with the Argonaut at Flatonia thus enabling travelers to ride thru the desert at night on their way to California.

Mail sent from Waco in the afternoon now going to Giddings and back to Cameron the next morning would be delivered here 24 hours earlier than with the present schedule.

Passengers going to Waco in the morning could catch the transportation back in the afternoon.

The Commercial Club has been asked to give an expression and the matter will be laid before the club on Monday night. So far all expressions are favorable to the proposed change.

St. Rita's Circle To Have Sandwich Sale

Members of St. Rita's Circle will sponsor a cake, coffee cake and sandwich sale to be held Saturday in the Yoe building, until recently occupied by the Keith Electric Company. Plans for the sale were formulated at the meeting held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Frank Richter, when Mrs. B. P. Matocha, president of the Circle, presided over a short business session.

The work of beautifying the church grounds is being continued by the ladies. Water pipes have been laid, and a driveway for the north side of the building is being planned.

The Circle will not have another meeting until after the season of Lent, and Mrs. Ralph Michalka will be the next hostess on May 7.

ST. LOUIS STORE SALE

Chas. Zidell of the New St. Louis Store has an announcement of interest to buyers of dry goods in this issue of The Herald. The big event is the pre-Easter carnival of bargains and the exposition of new merchandise. The announcement will be of interest to buyers.

Mrs. Dan Legacy, who has been in Cameron for the past year under the medical care of her brother, Dr. Edward Rischer, left Tuesday night for her home at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho. She plans to stop enroute at Quincy and Chicago, Ill., and hopes to be at home for Easter. Mrs. Legacy made many friends in Cameron during her stay here and they will regret to hear of her going.

Miss Kathryn Robbins will leave Friday for Austin where she will visit at the University of Texas and attend Round-Up festivities.

Mrs. John Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Bassett Watson visited in Dallas last week with Mr. and Mrs. Donald K. Moore. They were accompanied home by young Donald Kilgore, Jr., who will remain here with his grandparents for several days.

Cameron Defeats Woodmen Team In Sunday Game

On Sunday afternoon the Woodmen of the World team from Temple met the picked team of Cameron at the Lawless Green field and returned to their homes sadder and wiser for their defeat, sixteen to five, at the hands of the Cameronians.

The local boys made enough scores in their first inning at bat to almost equal the Woodmen and this seemed to take most of the pep out of the opposition and put a great measure of respect in their hearts for the Cameron boys. The runs, hits and errors of the scorers showed Cameron 16 runs, 10 hits and 6 errors; Woodmen 5 runs, 5 hits and 7 errors.

From a glance at the error column it is obvious both teams need practice and team work badly but Mr. Rogers stated that in the future the Cameron team could be depended upon to hold their own with any amateur team in our section.

Death Claims Joe Marek, Sr., Pioneer Of Cyclone Community

Following an illness of several months, Joe Marek, Sr., passed away Tuesday morning in a Waco sanitarium where he had been taken for treatment.

Mr. Marek was born in Germany, in 1855, but when quite young came to this country and located in Texas in Austin county, later moving to Cyclone where he was interested in land holdings, and was quite a successful business man. Several years later he moved to Burlington at which place he resided until the time of his death.

Mr. Marek was indeed a good man, a kind and devoted father and companion and a highly esteemed citizen; well known and well liked throughout this part of the country. He was a sincere Christian man, having been a member of the Lutheran church for a number of years.

He is survived by his wife and nine children, five girls and four boys:

Mrs. F. C. Schmidt of this city, Mrs. Emil Kosel and Mrs. Fred Friedrich of Ben Arnold, Mrs. Edmund Aigner of Waco and Mrs. Ed Schneider of Burlington, A. F. Marek of Perry, Lee Marek of Jones Prairie, Walter Marek of Burlington and Joe Marek of Bell Mead.

Mr. Joe Marek Sr., is survived by a brother, Frank Marek and a sister, Mrs. Annie Schiller of Meeks.

The remains were carried to the Lutheran church in Burlington Thursday afternoon where Rev. John Strauss of Robinson and R. Kalkbrenner of Burlington officiated. The body was laid to rest in the Lutheran cemetery following the services at the church and a large crowd of relatives and friends gathered to pay their last respects to this good man.

The News and its readers extend sympathy to the bereaved.—Rosebud News.

WANTED---A Dreamer

"If you can dream and not make dreams your master," wrote Kipling years ago... The world of business today is looking for dreamers... for men who can sit back and visualize things as they will be twenty years hence. For executives who can scheme... plan... look to newer horizon.

BUT.....

Verdict Reached In Cox-Jamison Suit

The case of J. A. Jamison vs. Walter Cox went to trial in the District Court last Monday and the jury returned a verdict on Special Issues on Thursday afternoon in favor of plaintiff for $79.00 actual and no exemplary damages. The jury found that the defendant did not strike the plaintiff in self-defense against violence used or threatened by the plaintiff and that the plaintiff was forced to sign a certain paper handed him by the defendant by reason of an assault made upon plaintiff and by reason of threats against the plaintiff and fear on the part of plaintiff for his life or great bodily injury. They also found that the assault was made by defendant willfully and purposely and with intent to injure the plaintiff but did not award exemplary or punitive damages. L. S. Cunningham was foreman of the jury.

The plaintiff was represented by Chambers and Gillis and Winborn Pearce of Temple, and the defendant by Henderson, Kidd and Henderson. In a former trial similar questions were answered except that no actual damages were awarded before.

The defendant has filed motion for new trial and if denied an appeal may be taken.

Georgia Man Tells How He Takes Black-Draught When Bilious.

Valdosta, Ga.—In telling how Theford's Black-Draught has helped to keep him well, Mr. O. A. Aldrich, of this city, says:

"Black-Draught is a good medicine. I began taking it when just a boy, for biliousness and as a laxative."

"When I get bilious, my mouth has a bad taste and I get dizzy, feel light-headed. A few doses of Black-Draught usually make me feel like new. It seems to cleanse my system of impurities, my head gets clearer, and the bad taste is gone from my mouth."

"I am a rather healthy, strong man, taking very little medicine, except for the dizziness I mentioned. It is good to know that there is a good laxative like Black-Draught to take and give quick relief."

Thousands of other men and women find Black-Draught a great help in relieving common ailments due to indigestion, constipation and biliousness.

Theford's Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality, finely powdered, carefully combined and packaged by automatic machinery.

Chevrolet Motor Co. In Plant Expansion

Detroit, April 7.—The Chevrolet Motor Company today announces an expansion of its production capacity through the opening last week of the rebuilt and enlarged assembly and export plant at Tarrytown, N. Y.

The new Tarrytown plant has a capacity of 900 cars daily and is one of the nine assembly plants maintained by Chevrolet in the United States.

Completion of this plant places Chevrolet in a more advantageous position to meet rapidly expanding sales requirements for its product along the Atlantic seaboard. In addition, the move was made to thoroughly modernize the plant and bring it up to the high standard of equipment and efficiency that characterizes Chevrolet plants in other sections of the country.

The new plant is a one story, brick and steel structure, 1200 by 400 feet, with monitor type roof, providing for the maximum light and ventilation. Adjoining it is a new two story office building, 200 by 60 feet, of concrete and brick construction.

The plant has two domestic assembly lines and an export boxing line. The export division of the Tarrytown plant serves many countries at present inaccessible to overseas Chevrolet plants. In several instances, Chevrolet finds it more expedient to ship direct from Tarrytown to a foreign country than from a Chevrolet plant overseas. In the case of the Tarrytown plant this applies only to countries that receive cars fully assembled. The other Chevrolet export plant at Bloomfield, N. J. ships only knocked down parts for assembly at General Motors plants overseas.

The finished Chevrolet cars, assembled and boxed at Tarrytown are put on barges and floated down to New York city, where they are put aboard ships for various parts of the world.

Stargas Introduced Into The Cameron Trade Territory

One of the latest conveniences to farmers in this section is the introduction of Star Gas into Cameron territory. This product makes it possible for farm homes to have all the gas conveniences of the city, and distinctively modernizes them.

The slogan adopted by the company "Stargas where gas mains stop," characterizes the product exactly.

Stargas is produced by extracting from pure gas all the elements containing extraordinarily high heating value. The elements condense when placed under normal temperature and moderate pressure is removed.

Piping for Stargas is exactly as piping for natural gas. The only difference is that the supply comes from the drums of Stargas placed outside the house. There are two drums, and when the first is consumed the second is placed in use, and a call for the representative brings a full one to be exchanged for the empty drum. The truck is equipped for quick demonstration.

The Community Natural Gas Company office is headquarters for information on the installation of gas in rural or suburban homes out of reach of the main line and with this new convenience, many rural homes around Cameron will soon be made to rival the most completely equipped city residence, company officials declare.

J. B. Brooks of Houston, assistant general freight agent of the Southern Pacific Lines was a visitor in Cameron last week. Mr. Brooks is well known here, having served as freight agent for the San Antonio and Aransas Pass system for a number of years.

Beautiful home grounds give pleasure and add value to property. Valuable information is found in free catalogue of Ramsey's Austin Nursery, Austin, Texas. Write for it. 36-124

It's wise to choose a SIX!

After all, it is a perfectly simple matter to decide which automobile to buy. Only two questions must be answered to your satisfaction—

First: Which car gives the most for my money?

Second: Which car represents the soundest investment in satisfaction and pride of ownership?

Six-Cylinder Motor

In buying a low-priced car consider the following facts:

It is wise to choose a six-cylinder motor—for six cylinders are necessary to take out vibration and roughness. Six-cylinder smoothness will save the motor, the whole chassis, the body, the passengers, and the driver.

The Chevrolet is a six. And yet it sells at a price that anyone can afford to pay.

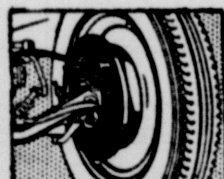

This very low-priced car lasts longer, not only because of fine materials and oversize parts, but also because it is a six. Its big, smooth, 50-horsepower six-cylinder engine is always "taking it easy." There is no feeling of strain at any speed.

With all its six-cylinder smoothness and power the New Chevrolet Six uses no extra gasoline or oil. Efficient design makes this possible—overhead valves—high compression power from any fuel—very latest high-acceleration carburetor—close-fitting, long-wearing pistons—crankcase ventilation—air cleaner. You can really have extreme economy and still satisfy your ideal of truly modern transportation.

Chevrolet economy is also the mark of Chevrolet sincerity in manufacture. To illustrate:

Chevrolet valves are readily accessible and adjustable. This saves replacing valves, and also makes it possible to preserve efficiency.

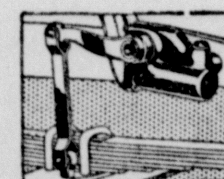

Fully Enclosed Brakes

A similar example is found in Chevrolet's molded brake lining—reducing the necessity of frequent replacement, and consequent expense.

Furthermore, there is a rear axle inspection plate on the new Chevrolet Six. This makes it unnecessary to take the axle apart to examine it or clean it.

The Chevrolet Six is full of such evidence that true motor car economy comes from advancement and refinement.

Like the finest cars, the Chevrolet Six provides the comfort and protection of four springs controlled by hydraulic shock absorbers. They are mounted lengthwise, in the direction of car travel, and self-adjusting spring shackles maintain quiet.

Delco-Lovejoy Shock Absorbers

With modern low suspension and extra wheelbase, the Chevrolet Six has excellent proportions.

Its impressive front view is distinguished by the genuine honeycomb radiator, another mark of modern cars.

The gasoline tank is in the rear for safety and finer appearance.

Chevrolet beauty instantly says "Body by Fisher"—costly car style, with the permanent quiet of Fisher composite steel-and-wood construction.

Body by Fisher also gives you a genuine non-glare windshield, adjustable driver's seat, more space, deeper cushions, clearer vision, finer fabrics and fittings.

There is just as much extra value everywhere in the car. BY ANY STANDARD the Chevrolet Six is the greatest value in the low-price field.

It is wise to choose the Chevrolet Six with its six-cylinder valve-in-head motor... with full scientific equipment... with its Body by Fisher... with four long semi-elliptic springs, long wheelbase, low suspension, rear-mounted gasoline tank, honeycomb radiator and all the many other features of this day and age.

See your nearest Chevrolet dealer today and drive a Chevrolet Six. Ten minutes at the wheel will show you what a remarkable difference six cylinders make.

News Of Seventh Grade

The following are the biographies of famous people whose birthdays come in April. Three paragraphs: 1. His boyhood days; 2. Why he is remembered; and 3. Something about his character were used in writing these biographies.

Oliver Cromwell

Oliver Cromwell was born into the family of a very poor but very religious farmer in Huntingdonshire. Now to glance at his features. It looks as though his face had been hewn out of solid granite, grim massive and hard. There is power written all over his face, but no vestige. He is a born fighter and leader, the future Protector of England. Cromwell was a very religious man. Once he was ready to leave for America for his religion, when stopped by the king's order.

Cromwell was one of the men in Parliament whom Charles I declared was against, uncouth, unskilled, embarrassed, when he began to speak, but a man by reason of his power. He also raised the Puritan army, or the Ironsides, who conquered the Cavaliers.

Oliver Cromwell, when the need became apparent, could kill with as much firmness as anybody. Yet his mercilessness caused suffering for the poor. He caused coal to be brought in without taxation, so the poor could get it cheaper. He also forced companies to store coal in the city in the summer when it was cheap so the poor could get it cheap.

—Roy Baskin.

Washington Irving

Washington Irving whose native city was New York was the youngest of a family of eleven children. His father was a stern Scotch Presbyterian and his mother a kind English woman. Although in his youth there was in his character, a touch of his later Rip Van Winkle, it seemed that he inherited the best traits of both his parents. Rambling about Sleepy Hollow region was caused by symptoms of the lungs.

He sailed for Europe intending to improve his health, which he did. There he gained the friendship of many. Later he returned home still and idler and spending most of the time in social affairs. The death of his proposed wife caused a great grief over him. But he wrote to keep away the grief and among the writings was 'Knickerbocker's History of New York.' Later he made himself famous by the books and stories of 'Geoffrey Crayson's Sketch Book,' 'Rip Van Winkle,' 'Legend of Sleepy Hollow,' and 'Bracebridge Hall.' He went to Europe and finished more famous books. 'Tales of a Traveler,' 'Life of Columbus,' 'The Alhambra,' and 'Life of Washington,' were among them.

Returning to the United States he was honored as America's pioneer in the field of general literature.

About the time of the War of 1812 his brother's business and health failed and Washington came home from Europe and supported them. Another incident that showed his wonderful character was the time he abandoned the writing of the history of Mexico so that blind Prescott might do it.

—Ernest Sharpe.

Hans Christian Anderson

A long, lanky lad, the son of a cobbler, was often seen walking the streets of the ancient city of Odense, Denmark. By looking at him would you think him idle? Perhaps so, but his mind was really full of wonderful pictures of fairies. There were few books in his home but often at night he read fairy tales.

Hans Christian Anderson is known as one of the best fairy tale writers the world over. Some of his most famous writings are 'Little Claus and Big Claus,' 'The Little Mermaid,' 'The Tinder Box,' 'The Ugly Ducklings,' 'The Snow Queen.'

Because of Hans' nervous, high strung nature his mother found it necessary to arrange at the first school he attended that he should never be punished. One day, having forgotten the request, the teacher gave him a slight tap with the rod and he immediately took up his slate and books and marched off home only to be sent to another school.

—May Griffith.

Booker T. Washington

Booker Taliaferro Washington was an American negro educator. He was born on a plantation in Franklin county, Virginia. For a while, a slave was he, but slavery was abolished by the war between the North and the South and he and his mother were set free. While employed in salt blocks and coal mines in West Virginia, he managed to get the rudiments of an education at night school. He worked his way through the Hampton Normal and Industrial Institute between 1872 and 1875.

After he had gone to the Wayland Seminary in Washington, D. C., he became an instructor at Hampton. He made such a good appearance here that he was chosen to organize at Tuskegee, Alabama, a normal school for negroes, similar to that at Hampton. The state made up two thousand dollars each year to pay the teachers. It is now the Tuskegee Normal. The growth was due largely to the earnestness and practical good sense of Booker T. Washington. He was a good public speaker and addressed large audiences all over the United States. He was also a good writer and wrote many books.

After he had learned all of this knowledge, he was so unselfish that he was willing to spend his money and knowledge and devote all of his time in teaching the people of his race.

—Vernon Mayfield.

Cromwell

Oliver Cromwell was born in Huntingdon, England into a world that was ever changing and into a country especially noted for its many Civil Wars and uproars over church questions. He was of the middle class and pretty well-to-do. Reports are meager about his childhood, but he was finely educated. He, after being educated in the Huntingdon Grammar Schools, studied law at Cambridge, then practiced in London. After marrying, he was converted to Puritanism strict in itself and in one of its strictest forms.

Cromwell was mostly remembered for his great military skill. In serving in the army against Charles I he was rapidly promoted. After many campaigns he received command of the Parliamentary Armies at a critical moment, the Welsh, Scotch, Irish and Dutch were closing in on England on all sides. He met this by giving the Scotch a bitter defeat at Preston Moor.

After fixing things in foreign lands he defeated the army of Charles II, a weak general himself, and on the vote of a Puritan Parliament became Lord Protector of Great Britain. Under his reign England defeated all enemies in France, Spain and the Barbary States. He made good his boast that an Englishman should be as fully respected as a Roman had been.

Oliver Cromwell was really not a bloodthirsty man but he would sacrifice everything for a cause. The thing he was fighting for was an upright Parliament but when he became commander of the army he abolished it because he thought it was threatening the rights of the people. At the first of the struggle he executed Charles I because then he knew that Charles could not inspire his men. In one of his campaigns in Ireland, he took a city and executed every man, woman and child to cow the Irish. He was a great leader of the Protestants and before he died he made Central Europe a safe place for Protestants.

—Giles Avriett.

John Burroughs

Although born in the East where so many large cities are, John Burroughs became a noted naturalist and essayist. He received an academic education and then taught school for eight years. From 1874 until his death he lived on a farm devoting his time to literature and fruit culture.

We remember him for his great naturalism on animals. Some of his greatest works are 'Notes on Walt Whitman as a Poet and Person,' 'Locusts and Wild Honey,' 'Fresh Fields' and 'Far and Near.' He is one of America's favorite writers on outdoor life, a literary naturalist whose description of birds, bees and flowers are among the best and most charming in all literature.

The essay was his favorite form of literature and he found special enjoyment in reading Emerson, Walt Whitman and Mathew Arnold. The first, he said, awakened his religious feelings; the second quickened his interest in human nature; the third taught him to write and think clearly.

—Charlie Smith.

Hans Christian Anderson

Anderson was born in Odense, Denmark. He had very little education or home training. He loved the theater and tried to become an actor. His friends helped him with his education. Later he wrote plays which no one cared for. He won no attention until he began to write travel stories during his travels through Germany and Italy.

He is remembered for his famous fairy tales of which 'The Ugly Duckling' is one of the most famous. He also wrote some other famous stories some of which are 'Improvisatore,' 'O. T.,' 'Only a Fiddler' and 'Life's Romance.'

Anderson was one of the best loved men in the world. He was a personal friend of the Queen and King of Denmark. Very many people grieved over his death.

CHURCH OF COLONIAL DAYS STRESSED IN MEETING OF D. A. R. CHAPTER HERE

The church during colonial times was stressed in the meeting of the Sarah McCalla Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held Thursday afternoon with Mrs. J. D. Eplen hostess at her home. The meeting was opened with the reading of the ritual and the offering of a prayer, following which Mrs. R. H. McIntosh, regent, presided over a business session. Roll call was answered with the names of colonial ministers and brief histories of their lives.

The program proper was devoted to a paper read by Mrs. Graham Gillis on 'The Part the Church Played in the Colonization of America.' Mrs. B. J. Baskin and Mrs. R. H. McIntosh gave a report on the unveiling of the La Salle monument at Navasota recently. The monument was erected by the State D. A. R. organization with the assistance of the citizens of Navasota.

The hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Bush Stafford, served white and lavender brick cream and cake. Plate favor were purple pansies. There were 12 members present at the meeting, three of whom were out of town. Mrs. John Owens of Brownwood and Mrs. R. A. Tag were guests.

MRS. ANNA MIKASKA

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Mikaska, 68 years, were held at the Ocker church Friday April 4, at ten o'clock in the morning, with Rev. Hagar officiating. Interment was in the Ocker cemetery with Green Brothers in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Mikaska died at her home near Burlington at four o'clock in the afternoon, Thursday, April 3.

the Catastrophe that befell Mrs. Greer's Cake

One of Mrs. Greer's masterpieces—an angel food cake—was basking in the oven's glow, taking on that coat of tan so fashionable these days—especially necessary to cakes of quality.

"Some think it's all in the beating," said Mrs. Greer inwardly as she cautiously lowered the door and peeped in, "but I claim that baking has just as much to do with . . ."

Just then . . . the telephone in the front hall rang.

"What can you expect?" she asked irritably when her husband came home a few minutes later. Between them they viewed the ruins of what had once been a promising cake. Tears welled up in her eyes.

"I can't bake a cake and answer the 'phone at the same time," she wailed.

"No, you can't", soothed Henry Greer as he put his arm around her. "What you really need, I guess, is an 'extension' telephone near the kitchen."

Telephones where you need them save time, steps, housewifely patience—even scorched cakes. Had Henry Greer but known it, telephones are being installed in kitchens, these days.

Few know that the extra cost of one or two "extensions" is somewhat less than that of the single telephone they now have.

By a wisely placed "extension" or two, an expert telephone man can often double the convenience of the telephones in your home.

Just then . . . the telephone rang!

"TRY CARDUI AGAIN"

Mother's Advice to Daughter
Was Followed, and She
Soon Got Better.

North Little Rock, Ark.—"Shortly after my marriage, my health wasn't very good," writes Mrs. W. E. Burgin, 315 West Second Street, this city. "I had severe cramping spells, and at times I would have to go to bed. This would be very weakening. I took about five bottles of Cardui at this time and my strength came back. I did not have any more trouble for some time."

Several years later, Mrs. Burgin found herself debilitated by heavy home responsibilities, and she explains: "I seemed very slow in getting my strength back. I was too weak to do anything but just lie around. I would get very nervous over my condition."

"My mother told me I ought to try Cardui again. I did, and soon was getting better. When I had taken about four bottles of Cardui, I was able to do my work again, and haven't had to take it any more."

If you are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, take Cardui, a medicine used by women for over fifty years. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of others who have praised Cardui for the benefits they have felt after taking it. Get a bottle, today.

CARDUI
OF USE BY WOMEN

MAYSFIELD

Members of the Ladies' Aid whose birthdays came in the months of January, February and March entertained the society with a Tacky Party.

On Wednesday, April 2, the ladies of the community searched in the attic for styles of by-gone years and donning them, made their way to the home of Mrs. Roy Newton where they were escorted to the back door by the hostesses and cordially invited to walk in. Various things obstructed their path as they passed through the house to the living room where they were seated. Some of them were so 'stylishly' dressed that it was difficult for their next door neighbors to recognize them and much laughter was heard as they surveyed each other.

At this time their attention was attracted by the decorations in the room. Instead of flowers, various vegetables were used as bouquets, paper bags stuffed with pop corn and peanuts having comical faces and figures drawn on them, were hanging temptingly around, but as this was April Fool time the guests were careful to refuse when invited to help themselves. Other pictures, such as 'April Fool Knock Out' and 'Geoffie' hung from the walls. These pictures and drawings were real pieces of art and were admired very much by the guests. The Society is very much indebted to Miss Ruth Barmore and the little fourteen year old daughter of her Sunday school teacher, Helen Manning of Harlingen, Texas, where Miss Barmore is doing stenographic work, for the use of their talent on this occasion.

A full program was given and the guests were kept busy with one stunt rapidly following another. Sticks of candy suspended by strings and 'doctored' with salt and soda were bitten, a Pose Stunt, Tangled Songs, Hurley Burley, Tongue Twisters and then each guest was given a piece of chewing gum which she chewed and molded into an animal, the name of which had been given her. Mrs. Wm. Freeman won the prize, with a squirrel.

The menu in the shape of a little book with a 'funny saying' inside was handed out with the suggestion that the ladies take their preference. The menu was as follows: cocktail, wild goose, pickles, string beans and salad. When invited to the dining room they were served with a rooster's feather in a glass, and in the plate was the picture of a wild goose, peanuts painted green for pickles, beans strung on a string and a picture of a tempting salad.

While 'eating' each read her funny saying and then the judges decided who was the tackiest. It was a tie between Mrs. Gail Newton and Mrs. John Thweatt. As Mrs. Thweatt was a guest the prize was won by her. A prize given for the silliest thing ever done was won by Mrs. Allen.

While the guests were enjoying refreshments of delicious cake and ice cream in the living room they were entertained with a splendid radio program from station SPASM and were asked to guess who was broadcasting 'Maggie and Jiggs at the Golden Gate' and 'Questions the Census Taker is asking Us.' To the surprise of all LeRoy Massengale stepped from behind a curtain.

The hostesses giving this party were Mesdames J. Wise, Roy Newton, R. B. Mayes, Gail Newton, Hub Massengale, Nettie Barmore and Miss Mary Kelso. Among the members and guests who enjoyed the entertainment were Mesdames Allen, John Thweatt, Gilford Thweatt, Eva Todd, J. H. Ireland, Jennie Yates, Albert Triggs, Jr., Gum Ditto, H. L. Yager, Wm. Freeman, Floyd, H. L. Atkinson, Elbert Hollinsworth and E. J. Newton.

Mrs. E. J. Newton was a Cameron visitor Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Freeman and children, Billy and Betty, attended the matinee in Cameron Monday afternoon.

A speeding car with drinking passengers, passed through Maysfield Saturday evening killing a calf belonging to Roy Newton, it is reported.

Mrs. Eugene Barmore visited the manse Thursday afternoon bringing with her as a gift, a jar of delicious preserves.

Mrs. R. B. Mayes and Mrs. Eugene Barmore called on Mr. and Mrs. Jim Barmore Thursday. They reported Mr. Jim to be doing very well that day.

George, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Yager, has been sick for several days.

Miss Willie Belle Holloway spent Thursday night with Miss Jo Baylor of Curry.

Miss Bernice Baylor was a recent guest of Miss Myrtle Mae Holloway.

The Maysfield Seventh Grade and teacher are proud of one of its classmates, Mildred Newton, who had a short story printed in last week's issue of the Progressive Farmer.

The members of the school board were reelected at the school house Saturday as follows: Messrs. John Thweatt, Floyd and Floyd Phipps.

Mrs. Clarence Freeman was a Cameron visitor Monday morning.

Miss Connie Mae Hickman of Ben Arnold, accompanied Miss Mary Freeman home to spend the week end.

Texas And Texans

By Wm H. Mayo

Penitentiary Problem Compromise

It should be evident to an unbiased mind that the Texas legislature will never agree to remove the main penitentiary to a 'point near Austin.' The leading argument for a near-Austin location is that it would place it close enough for frequent visitations and inspections by State officials and where the products of the system could easily and cheaply be distributed to other State institutions.

Huntsville is only about 130 miles by direct line from Austin, 65 from Houston and 160 from Dallas. Governor Hood favors relieving congested prison conditions by using a large prison force in road building. Why not compromise now by spending as much of the present appropriation as possible for building a unit for a modern industrial plant at Huntsville, and with the co-operation of the Highway Commission, using prison labor to construct first-class highways from Huntsville to Austin and Dallas? The road to Houston is already good.

To get to Austin it would only be necessary to fill in gaps from Singleton to Bryan and from Lexington to Elgin and build the roads already designated. Dallas can be reached on an almost straight line by the designated Federal and State highway, through Madisonville, Fairfield, Corsicana and Ennis, most of which is yet unbuilt.

Huntsville already about an hour and a half from Houston, can thus be placed in about three and a half hours of Austin and four and a half hours of Dallas over good roads by bus and truck, many intermediate towns and a large rural areas would be benefitted, penitentiary congestion would be at least temporarily helped, Huntsville would be happy, conflicting interests could find no cause for complaint and a fine start would be made in converting the old prison into a modern plant at the least expense.

Nueces County Diversification

Although Nueces county, with 123,703 bales leads the State and probably the world, in cotton production, its newspapers are not especially proud of the record and are preaching diversification, evidence of which is now seen on every hand.

Robstown alone has shipped over 400 cars of vegetables this season, shipment reaching as high as 75 cars a week. From Odem a solid trainload of radishes, 17 carloads and said to be the largest shipment of radishes ever made, recently went North, having been concentrated at Bishop, Odem and Robstown.

In adjoining San Patricio county, Sinton, Taft and Gregory are making larger vegetable shipments than ever before. The crop of radishes, which was grown in about 30 days, has netted growers more than $20 an acre, some crops selling for $40 an acre ungathered in the fields.

Co-operation is working wonders in vegetable growing and marketing not only in that part of Texas, but throughout the State.

Valley Vegetables

Practically all evidence of the January frost in the Lower Rio Grande Valley has disappeared. Most of the publicity of that section centers around citrus fruits, the thousands of acres of which certainly are a delight to the eye, but just now trainload vegetable shipments, running during the season into many thousand carloads are making business lively and prosperity evident in the valley.

Approximately 12,500 prospective homeseekers, according to railroad reports, have visited South Texas in Pullman cars the first three months of the year, and probably as many more have gone there in busses and private cars. This shows that Texas is attracting greater attention than ever before. All of the State is sharing in this influx of people from other States.

Maine Potato Growers

A trainload of Maine potato growers, accompanied by the Governor and bringing with them fine samples of their native 'spuds,' came to Texas the first week in April primarily to advertise Maine products, but they saw Texas products and Texas weather in such striking contrast with those of Maine that Texas will get a number of them as permanent citizens. Wisconsin dairymen recently brought a car of Wisconsin dairy products to Texas to show what that State is doing in the dairy business, the result being that a number of them have arranged to do their dairying in Texas in the future. Northern people like Texas weather and Texas hospitality.

Highway Co-Operation

It is hard for a single town or community to put over a highway program unaided by other places. Highways are not planned now for a single precinct or county, but to lead from one definite point to another in a way to serve the most people. Where a road is to be designated and built, people all along the line must hold meetings, agree upon plans and routes, and work together unitedly to accomplish their purpose. Where this is being done in Texas, results are being obtained. This is a cooperative age. Whatever is to be done can be done best by united effort. All Texans need to cooperate in every way possible in building up all Texas.

Hotels Are Necessities

A Texas town without ample and comfortable hotel facilities is out of luck. Tourists and business men avoid such towns. Occasionally they get caught in them at night unable to get accommodations and forced to move on to some other place.

Can you imagine the feeling of auto travelers overtaken at night in such a place, when they have to leave in the rain over unfamiliar and muddy roads for another town some 40 miles away? This was the luck of at least a dozen autoists in an otherwise fine Texas town not more than two weeks ago. That town—and there are others—should get actively to work to secure a modern hotel large enough for its present and prospective trade.

Henderson Bank Organized

When the Farmers and Merchants' National Bank at Henderson closed its doors the latter part of February, business there received a temporary shock, but it didn't last long. Within a month a new bank organization was formed with Judge Charles L. Brachfield as its head and the new Citizens National Bank announces it has taken over all the assets and will pay all the liabilities of the closed bank. Not a depositor in the old bank has withdrawn his account and many new depositors are being made. That is the spirit that makes Henderson the splendid little city that it is.

Freeze Gets Tomatoes

The recent freeze around Jacksonville, Nacogdoches and other East Texas points destroyed from 25 to 75 per cent of the tomatoes that had been set out. Some will not be replanted, but all available plants will be put out, and the hopeful tomato growers of East Texas say they will get larger prices because of the decreased acreage. A little cold snap doesn't discourage a modern East Texas farmer for any great time.

Uvalde Airport

Private interests have acquired 500 acres for an airport site at Uvalde, said to be admirably adapted to the purpose. A flying school will be established in connection with the airplane landing field. Del Rio and Eagle Pass, nearby, will also have flying schools and regular air services will be maintained between the three enterprising West Texas cities.

Patronize Home Folks

I know a nice little Texas city that has recently lost two families because local groceries, that depend on local patronage for their support, are selling bread baked in nearby cities rather than but it at the same price from either of the two home bakeries that make as good bread as the city bakeries. Bad, isn't it, that some merchants expect everybody except themselves to help build up a town, while they feel privileged to tear it down?

Health Features Sell Electric Refrigerators

The electric refrigerator is probably more capable of increasing the health and happiness of the American family, than any other recent invention for the household.

A few years ago little thought was given to refrigeration by homemakers. Almost any nook or corner, cooler, in even the slightest degree, than the outside temperature was deemed a satisfactory storage place for even the most perishable of foods.

This belief has been disproved by the scientists and bacteriologists in the employ of the manufacturers of electric refrigerators.

According to Mr. Flinn of the Texas Power and Light Company, agents for the General Electric Refrigerator, one of their first discoveries was that harmful bacteria developed with great rapidity in foods stored in a temperature above 50 degrees Fahrenheit.

'Destructive bacteria is present in foods at all times,' he continued, 'and it requires only warmth and moisture to develop it. The growth of this bacteria causes mold, which if consumed, may result in serious ailments.'

It is necessary, therefore, that food be stored in a temperature ranging between 40 and 50 degrees Fahrenheit until used.

'The majority of the people now realize these facts, which in addition to the convenience and utility of electric refrigeration accounts for its tremendous acceptance in a few years time.'

'A good electric refrigerator will pay for itself in a short time by the food saving and convenience it makes possible. In the average home, approximately 10 to 15 per cent of the foods purchased are lost by spoilage.'

Lowe Brothers Porch and Deck Paint is made in a wide range of pleasing colors from which you may choose. Come in and let us show them to you.

YOUR porch will give a smiling greeting to your friends and it will prove a source of immense pleasure to you and your family if it is "fixed up" a bit.

The porch is really an outdoor sun parlor and its appearance should be considered as a matter of importance.

Due to the abuse to which it is exposed—rain, snow, sleet, ice and the hot rays of the sun—scuffing shoes and oft-moved chairs, the porch floor needs the best kind of protection that can be secured. For this protection we offer LOWE BROTHERS PORCH AND DECK PAINT.

It is very easy to put on—you will be pleased and surprised at the results you can obtain.
